ACS&T Core Values

Providing storage, transport, production and packaging services, we specialise in meeting the logistics needs of the food supply chain.

Our proven pedigree began in 1921 and the creation of the UK's first cold store - our customers benefit from decades of experience, innovation and a track record of delivering value added solutions.

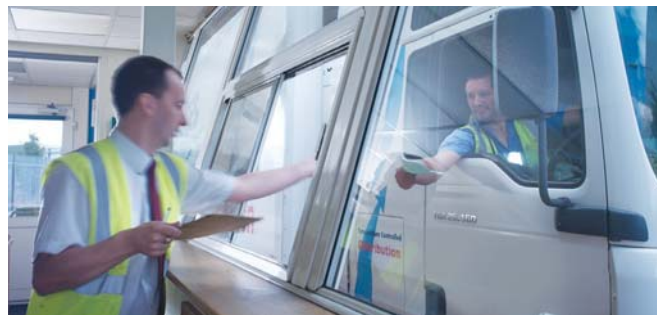

Our core values include:

Quality of Service: Committed to delivering high quality service, we operate with integrity and a concern for the environment.

Stability: As a wholly owned subsidiary Camellia plc, the international investment company, we have the resources needed to support your business.

Customer Focus: Building bridges, challenging assumptions and developing relationships, we work with you to achieve more for your business.

Responsiveness: A flexible approach that is receptive to the different needs of the customer.

Specialist Services

Our comprehensive range of specialist logistics and production support services are designed to deliver real competitive advantages.

In a rapidly evolving, global market we work tirelessly to ensure that our customers' supply chains operate as efficiently as possible.

Operating flexibly across all temperature regimes, we provide production and packing support in addition to transportation and storage.
